All Saints' Day

All Saints' Day, also known as All Hallows' Day, Hallowmas, Feast of All Saints or Solemnity of All Saints, is a Christian festival celebrated in honour of all the saints, known and unknown. It occurs on different dates in different Christian traditions. Several Western Christian denominations celebrate it on 1 November, including the Roman Catholic Church, the Anglican Communion, the Methodist Church, the Lutheran Church, and other Protestant churches. Meanwhile, the Eastern Orthodox Church and the Eastern Catholic churches celebrate it on the first Sunday after Pentecost.

Christians who celebrate All Saints' Day and All Souls' Day do so in the fundamental belief that there is a prayerful spiritual bond between those in heaven (the "Church triumphant"), and the living (the "Church militant"). In Catholic theology, the day commemorates all those who have attained the beatific vision in Heaven. It is a national holiday in many historically Catholic countries. In Methodist theology, All Saints Day revolves around "giving God solemn thanks for the lives and deaths of his saints", including those who are "famous or obscure". As such, individuals throughout the Church Universal are honoured, such as Paul the Apostle, Augustine of Hippo and John Wesley, in addition to individuals who have personally led one to faith in Jesus, such as one's grandmother or friend.

In the Western Christian practice, the liturgical celebration begins at Vespers on the evening of 31 October, All Hallows' Eve (All Saints' Eve), and ends at the close of 1 November. It is thus the day before All Souls' Day, which commemorates the faithful departed. In many traditions, All Saints' Day is part of the triduum of Allhallowtide, which lasts three days from 31 October to 2 November inclusive.

Marriage Minute ~

What is keeping you from the marriage of your dreams? Every marriage launches with an incredible dream for happiness, but all too often, hardships come, and we lose the zeal to think we can have anything other than a mediocre marriage. We say to ourselves, “I guess this is all there is to marriage.”

In this week’s Gospel, Zachaeus, had the courage and ingenuity to overcome his obstacle to happiness by climbing a tree to see His Lord. For Zachaeus, his height was an obstacle, but for many of us, it is not a matter of physical stature, but a stature of attitude. We lack the courage and humility to rise above pettiness, busyness, wounded pride, comfort, and sometimes simple planning to actualize the marriage we dreamed of in the beginning.

Consider marriage enrichment activities to be the tree you climb to overcome any obstacles in your way of increased joy in your marriage. Check out www.joyfulmarriageproject.com for suggestions.

The Collection for the Archdiocese for the Military Services will be taken up the weekend of November 6th. Please be as generous as possible.
