Wedding at Cana

On the third day there was a wedding in Cana in Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. Jesus and his disciples were also invited to the wedding. When the wine ran short, the mother of Jesus said to him, "They have no wine." Jesus said to her, "Woman, how does your concern affect me? My hour has not yet come." His mother said to the servers, "Do whatever he tells you." Now there were six stone water jars there for Jewish ceremonial washings, each holding twenty to thirty gallons. Jesus told them, "Fill the jars with water." So they filled them to the brim. Then he told them, "Draw some out now and take it to the headwaiter." So they took it. And when the headwaiter tasted the water that had become wine, without knowing where it came from (although the servers who had drawn the water knew), the headwaiter called the bridegroom and said to him, "Everyone serves good wine first, and then when people have drunk freely, an inferior one, but you have kept the good wine until now". Jesus did this as the beginning of his signs in Cana in Galilee and so revealed his glory and his disciples began to believe in him.

“Building
Bridges is a
Saving Action”

Creativity has built many bridges
To allow passage and cartage, side to side,
This, an inspector’s nightmare today,
Still a tribute to builders of years ago.

In countryside little traveled now,
Near fields tilled with powerful tractors,
This bridge was a triumph, in wood and iron,
Conquering the impassable river below.

Then and now, we seek to build bridges,
Enabling people to be together,
In places of commerce and service,
In places of prayer and performance.

Lacking bridges, we are alone and without,
Unable to gain what we need and want;
Building bridges is a saving action,
For engineers and all living faithful folk.

During Lent we seek the quiet place,
Where reflection and connection can be;
We bridge our thoughts with our actions,
We strive to be the Christ we admire.

We are bridges for one another,
In various designs, conditions of repair,
Helping one another in going and carrying,
Hoping to arrive in joy, on the other side.
