“No one has greater love than this, to lay down one’s life for one’s friends.” John 15:13, read on the feast of St. Matthias, May 14 .

Bishop Matthias Schmidt, O.S.B. 1931-1992
 Monk of St. Benedict’s Abbey, Atchison

Fresh flower petals on his grave, tears of remembrance, each day, their bishop in Rui Barbosa, Bahia, this Matthias whom they loved.

He died in May, only 61, in 1992, praying with Mary to her Son, committed to Brazil’s poor, standing tall in church and state.

“To be a seed” was his thought, to be planted and to die, not an eye-witness to any fruit born of that death.

The fruit is in their hearts; they know they were loved, and they are seeds themselves, continuing his work and words.

Matthias, a native Kansan, who knew of seed and harvest, wanted change for those he loved, lived with them in their need.

May is a time of flowering, of beauty in nature and person, fruit born of past investment of self in soil and soul.
