Holy Cross Church, Emmett

Raising of the Widow's Son

Jesus journeyed to a city called Nain, and his disciples and a large crowd accompanied him. As he drew near to the gate of the city, a man who had died was being carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. A large crowd from the city was with her. When the Lord saw her, he was moved with pity for her and said to her, "Do not weep." He stepped forward and touched the coffin; at this the bearers halted, and he said, "Young man, I tell you, arise!" The dead man sat up and began to speak, and Jesus gave him to his mother. Fear seized them all, and they glorified God, exclaiming, "A great prophet has arisen in our midst," and "God has visited his people." This report about him spread through the whole of Judea and in all the surrounding region.

Fields of grain in Nebraska are a sign of practiced planting, with rows in symmetrical sweeps, artistry with farm implements.

Soybeans and corn, Midwest pride, grown for food and for profit, sustaining ways of life, in city and countryside.

Seeds of faith, skillfully planted, mature in us, gradually, with life experience and reflection, midst the many who share our beliefs.

The Body and Blood of Christ, celebrated daily and in June, nourish us who partake, helping us to bear fruit in regular harvest.

The Blessed Trinity, a mystery much like any growth, intertwines us, stirs our inner being to reach beyond, making love and sacrifice possible.

Pentecost celebrates fifty days, the Resurrection accepted as fact, a wind of enthusiasm ripens us, eager even to be consumed.

God in My Garden

I thank You for my garden, Lord,
Where with Your hand I grow.
I thank You for Your presence too,
The seeds and love I sow.
I thank You for the care that spills
From every budding flower,
And simply for the silent thrills
I gain there, by the hour.
Oh, the memories that fragrance brings,
To touch the distant years.
The beauty and remembrance
That fill my eyes with tears.
And, oh, my God—the temperance
Within my soul it brings,
Just to spend a time with You,
Creator of all things.
